PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Backend Developer - Eximy • 08/2022 - Now

As a vital contributor to the Ironfunnel project, a strategic initiative under Eximy, I played a key role in revolutionizing sales funnel optimization. By skillfully utilizing Node.js, TypeScript, MongoDB, and MySQL, I automated API processes and data tracking, providing businesses with streamlined insights into metrics and performance.

- Enhanced database performance through optimized queries, ensuring seamless operations.
- Significantly improved response times by refactoring legacy code, boosting application speed.
- Proactively contributed to the project's stability by implementing robust error handling and optimizing endpoints for enhanced performance.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

Personal financing app - Henry Bootcamp 07/2022

I worked together with a team of 7 members, including the Scrum Master, to effectively apply the agile methodology (Scrum) and utilize advanced tools such as Git to design and develop an innovative web application focused on financial management.
